

Managing Individual Student Success

1. Manage Markers

Disable Alert (M2)

As an advisor, I want to be able to disable a missed marker alert for an individual student. The marker should not disappear from the Student Progress screen but its appearance should differentiate it from active success markers. It should also cease firing in subsequent terms.

Move Marker(s)

As an advisor, I want to be able to move success markers to different term(s) in order to accommodate students who may not align with the current degree success marker map.

Substitute Marker(s)

As an advisor, I want to be able to substitute something (testing out, external credit, AP credit) for a particular success marker for a student. This replacement should fulfill that marker's requirement and cease firing in current and later terms.

2. Manage Terms

Add terms

As an advisor, I want to be able to add in extra terms for a particular student so that their success marker map aligns more closely with their progress. This could be a student who requires remedial coursework, a part-time student working towards a full-time degree map or a student who may take one or more semesters off during their academic career.

Move terms

As an advisor, I want to be able to move student terms so that a student can continue to work towards their degree success without firing markers that may not be taken in a particular order. I may also want to add in an empty term to signify a leave of absence or other reason for not completing term-based success markers.
