

Toni Weiss
DIRECTOR

I love to direct and create stories.

I work with high profile clients and projects in entertainment & branding, specializing in feature-quality animation and live action.

I direct, write and storyboard feature films, international branded content, commercials and digital & real world experiences.

As an author, I have written for children's books, and both online and offline print publications. As a storytelling consultant, I have helped brands, game developers, animations studios, film schools and advertising agencies find the best way to tell their story.

For over 25 years, my life is professional storytelling. This breadth of experience guarantees that I bring superior craftsmanship to the heart of every project, to create remarkable stories for the adult inside every child and the child inside every adult.
