SHORT BUT AZHLICIOUS STORY ABOUT US

Azh Boyzz is a production company that focuses on genre films with brave, strong, practical, and alternative styles. We are not afraid to break common storytelling structures and create an experience that you won't forget!

Let Azh Boyzz serve you something fresh, blending together pure contemporary visions with the good old vintage flavors. We honor many big names like Dario Argento, John Carpenter, Mario Bava, Lucio Fulci, David Cronenberg, Sam Raimi, David Lynch, Clive Barker, and so on.

We could go on for hours, days, or months about our love for silly B-movies, bad acting, nonsensical dialog, stupid one-liners, memorable roles, explosions, lasers, awkward action scenes, gore, out-of-sync audio, and worn-out jokes. But instead, we use these secret ingredients as our guideline and mantra to create something refreshing and new.

All this and the belief in Family -style collaboration is our force and strength and the very foundation of Azh Boyzz's philosophy. Moviemaking flows through our veins. We absolutely love to tell stories without the pressure of achieving big goals and prosperity. Just for the sake of endless lust and devotion to movie making. We are the Family! Our fresh, organic visions of macabre and dark humor are never-ending. By brewing and bottling these ingredients we guarantee a taste that will last and tickle on your tongue for decades!
